novel from the pen of Miss Wormeley, entitled "Our Cousin Veronica," is perhaps the most noticeable. It is a work evinc-though, no doubt, from a saillful use of accessories in her pic-tures, by which their fidelity and vividness inspires the reade,

Miss Wormeley's style is singularly vigorous and graceful. It is not a woman's style at all. You look in vain for any of that excess of coloring, those redundant and pretty expletives, for which even the best of female writers are noted. Clear, strong, nervous and compact, were it not for feminine lines of thought, you would pronounce it the style of a man. As a picture of Vir-

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE
With HIS BROTHER JOSEPH.
Selected and Translated, with Explanatory Notes, from the "Memoires du Roi Joseph."
Two thick Volumes, 12mo. Price $2.
No book has yet appeared which furnishes so correct a portraiture of the character of Napoleon. He was in almost daily communication with his bather Joseph, from his first appointment as the General of Brigade, down to the 16th of June, 1815.
We cannot form a correct idea of the character of the great mind that swayed over nearly the whole Continent of Europe, without reading these Letters, which, unlike official correspondence, opens to us the immost thoughts and motives of action of the writer. These Letters bear upon every subject, and we see with what a watchful eye he cared fur ever the smallest king. A distinguished critic has observed in examining the early sheets that "Biographers will have to write their biographies

"Written with charming simplicity and fidelity to nature, and producing powerful dramatic effects. It is one of those rare nevels from which much can be learned of the workings of the human heart and the experiences of humble life."

"It has already had an extensive run in England. In correct portraiture of character, geniality of humor, and benevolent philosophy of aim, we have not for a long time met with a work philosophy of aim, we have not for a long time met with a work which has pleased us more."

"A very interesting story, written with that charming ease and unaffected confidence that marks a practiced pen, and a working, well-trained brain."

"Springfield Republican."

"Pervaded by tranquil beauty and natural feeling, as a nove for family reading it is surpassed by few productions."

"It is a successful work, and may be safely pronounced one of the best of Stringer & Townsend's Library of Standard Novels."

THE WIDOW BEDOTT WHAT THEY THINK OF HER IN WASHINGTON.
Says The Washington Dally Globe: "We are of ordaion the most humorous book that has EVER BEEN WRITTEN BY A FEMALE; and we regard it as but little, if anything, inforior, as amirth-inspiring production, to 'Sam Slick,' or to Thackeray's 'Yellow' Plush Papers.' As well as being humorous, the 'Bedott Papers' are satirical, and the authoress has drawn some plotters that we cannot but regard as very faithful representations of what she at winnessed. Among these is the Donatic Party, which is a shatter well worth the price of the book. We say to all—buy, very and laugh?"

read and laugh."

Fays The Louisville Daily[Courier: "They speak more of-cetually to the general ear and heart, even though they who car are not aware of the fact that they are imbibling wisdom, the "Papers' need not a word from us to those who know any hing of their character; to those who do not, we say they can-not too goon come into possession of the rich wit and genial larger that.

of mature among the green fields of life."

Says The Southern Literary Messenger: "The greatest hit of the search, and provocative of more down-right horse-laughter than any book since 'Major Jones's Courthip.' Whoever than any book since 'Major Jones's Courthip.' Whoever than any book since 'Major Jones's Courthip. NO DRAWBACK TO THE MERRIMENT IT AFFORDS,

The Newark Daily Advertiser says: "The fun and the smirk commence with the initial chapter, and WITH EVERY PAGE THE GRIN WIDENS, till the final one, when the laugh swallows up everything, and the ears even disappear in the ever-expanding mouth under the hearint influence of this amenthetical, mirth-provoker, waist-hard-off-button tearer."

TO BRICK-MAKERS and BRICK-MASONS.—
Proposals will be received at my office, in the town of Newbern, until the 15th day of February next, for making and burning one million and a half of good, hard brick, such as will be approved of by the Chief Engineer of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company, for erecting Machine-Shop, Depot Building and Warehouse at Newbern, for said Company. The clay as day of the place the buildings are to be erected on. The clays is also being dug. The yard, or a place for making it, will be furnished free of cost, which will require very little expense to prepare.

Or, if preferred, persons who propose to make the brick may also propose to put up the mesonry of the buildings at so much per thousand, allowing, as they may suggest, a certain number of brick to the cubic foot, and they furnish everything complete; all openings to be deducted.

The buildings are in a very convenient position for the contractor, lying in mediately adjoining the town, and one of them immediately on the river and the others within two or three hundred yards. No doubt that contracts can also be made with other parties for similar work, with a reliable contractor.

If preferred, security will be green and taken for the faithful carrying out of the said contract.

Persons proposing can either propose or not to take a portion of the stock of said Company in payment.

The plans of the buildings can be seen at any time on application at my office.

Regular packets run between Newbern and New-York and either Northern ports, which will enable contractors to land machinery or any materials at very short notice directly to the yard.

As regards the health of the place, few towns, Northern or Scouthern, can boast of the tree.

Proposals will also be received for the wood-work and slating of the same buildings, with or without materials furnished. E. R. STANLEY, Contractor. Newbern, N. C., Jan. 18, 1856.
